Mutual Fund Industry Feels 'Serious Threat'

NEW YORK (AP)—Attacked by the U.S. government for charging "excessive" fees, certain members of the mutual fund industry are going to react like fat cats that have just been swatted.

Mutual funds are a volume business, so a slight change in fees can amount to millions of dollars. The funds have pegged their fees high because they believe their professional advice is worth a good price.

Since the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission feels the funds' services are worth a bit less, some members of the industry are taking the exchange report as a serious threat.

Information, opinion, judgment, decision are some of the ingredients that contribute to the give and take that makes an auction market in any product. It is particularly true in the securities market.

The funds offer "professional" understanding of this mixture of fact and fancy. The assumption is that fund management is far more informed and able than the individual. And for this it takes a fee.

FEE SAID BIGGEST

The exchange says this fee averages out to a figure many times larger than that charged by banks for comparable services. It totals over a year's time about $130,000,000.

Two other studies in the last few years have reached similar conclusions that also pained the advice and management business.

First in 1962 the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania found that mutual funds in a certain period did no better for their customers, despite the fee, than mere chance could have done.

Last year the University of Chicago found that if you had chosen a stock at random in the 1926-1960 period the chances are that you would have made a profit 78.3 per cent of the time—merely by closing your eyes and choosing.

Naturally, the mutual fund industry disputes some of the university findings, just as it will dispute the exchange report. The exchange findings contain a bigger wallop, though, because they might be the basis for action by the U.S. Congress.

Tough To Make A Dollar On Canada's Stock Market

By LARRY DWORKIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It was hard to make a dollar on Canada's stock markets last week as prices and volumes slumped.

At Toronto, only 10,731,000 shares changed hands compared with 12,967,000 last week. At Montreal, 3,632,000 shares were traded against 3,919,000.

Toronto's industrial index dropped .94 to 144.12 as a result of a lack of leadership from the New York exchange.

West coast Transmission paced the list lower, falling 3 to 24 1/2. The drop followed a report to the United States Federal Power Commission by its staff recommending rejection of a proposal for the U.S. to import an additional 200,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily from the company.

Massey - Ferguson retreated 1 1/2 to 20 1/2 after touching a 1966 low of 20. The company said its Scottish farm machinery plant is going on a short work-week because of a drop in orders.

GM HIT NEW LOW

Other issues with hefty losses included General Motors, 2 1/2 to 72. Algoma Steel, 1 1/2 to 21—both lows for the year—and Distillers 1 1/2 to 32 1/2.

Bank stocks also declined despite reporting increases in their 1966 incomes of about 10 per cent. Royal was down 1 1/2 to 67 1/2 and Montreal and Imperial-Commerce 1/2 to 54 and 57 1/2. Nova Scotia added 1/2 at 62 1/2 while Toronto - Dominion was unchanged at 57 1/2.

The base - metal index retreated 3.35 to 83.36 after it had touched a 1966 low of 83.22.

On the speculative side, Area gained 23 cents to 3.15, Frobex 20 cents to 3.35 while Goldrim backed off 2 1/2 to 42 1/2 cents.

Golds rose 7.14 on index to 148.30 while the TSE dropped .90 to 138.09.

A Montreal, industrials were down .96 to 144.03, banks .70 to 109.01 and papers 1.56 to 104.12.

By 11 a.m. 460,000 shares had changed hands, compared with 557,000 at the same time Friday.

Prices of most issues were up slightly, with Moore Corp. pacing industrials, rising 1/4 to 89 1/2.

Other industrial gains were posted by CPR, up 1/4 to 54 1/2, Interprovincial Pile Line 1/4 to 84, and B.A. Oil and Imperial Oil, each 1/4 to 30 1/2 and 54 1/2, respectively.

U.S. Feels Winter's Blast In Northwest, Middle States

CHICAGO (AP)—Gale-driven rain lashed most of the U.S. Pacific northwest today and freezing drizzle gave an icy coat to many middle-west highways.

Hazardous - driving warnings were issued in both regions. Heavy snow in the Cascade Mountains closed a secondary highway linking west and east Oregon and forced cancellation of a ski race on Mount Hood.

In Oregon the U.S. coast guard reported winds of more than 120 miles an hour early Sunday. Rains brought the Coquille River in southern Oregon to flood stage. No danger to cities was expected.

Interstate 5, the main north-south Oregon highway was blocked in its southbound lanes Sunday when trucks jackknifed in heavy snow.

The weather bureau reported a foot of new snow in the area. In Idaho most mountain passes were snow-covered or icy and more snow was expected.

WINDS LASH SHORE

High winds lashed at the north coast of California and picked up even more velocity in the mountain passes.

Gale warnings flew from Point Conception, 40 miles northwest of Santa Barbara in California to Tatoosh Island in extreme northwest Washington.

The San Francisco weather bureau said the blizzard - like conditions would add 12 to 18 inches of snow to the pack on the high elevations of the Sierra Nevada and Cascade ranges in California.

The bureau warned of hazardous road conditions. Traffic moved slowly through rain, sleet and drizzle in much of the upper middle west. Hazardous - driving warnings were posted in eastern Wisconsin, much of Michigan and northeast Indiana.

In Chicago a United Air Lines' passenger plane headed for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, skidded off the runway at O'Hare International Airport. The two right propellers of the turboprop plane were bent. None of the 42 passengers and four crew members on board was reported injured.

Police in Milwaukee reported 78 persons were treated in hospitals in a 10-hour period after falls on icy sidewalks. Scores of minor car accidents were also reported.

An electric power failure in upstate New York cut off lights and heating units in 260 homes in Salamanca, south of Buffalo. Many families sought refuge with relatives and friends during the eight-hour blackout that took place in one of the coldest periods in years.

U Thant Gets Promise: LBJ Will Pay Attention

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—President Johnson, in a letter to U Thant congratulating him on his re-election as UN secretary-general, said he will give "closest personal attention" to UN peace problems.

Meanwhile, Thant told a Newsweek magazine interviewer that Washington refused peace talks he tried to arrange with North Viet Nam in 1964-65, saying it feared even the rumor of a meeting might topple the Saigon government.

There was no apparent connection between Johnson's letter and Thant's interview. Unanimously elected Friday by the UN General Assembly to a new five-year term, Thant told the assembly he would keep repeating that "this war must be ended" and that he would "make every effort on a personal basis" to promote a solution.

In the interview with Newsweek columnist Emmet John Hughes, Thant said he worked from September, 1964, to January, 1965, with the late Adlai Stevenson, then U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, to try to set up peace talks.

SAY NO NOT SERIOUS

The state department in November, 1965, admitted Thant had informed it North Viet Nam was willing to talk with the United States in Rangoon, Burma. The department said it declined because "all our indications were that there was no serious intent on the other side."

Thant said in the interview that in September, 1964, he got in touch with North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh through the Russians and Ho agreed to unofficial talks with Washington. He said Washington was informed but did not reply.

In January, Thant said, he pressed Stevenson for Washington's reaction and was told separate U.S. soundings through Canadian channels in Hanoi had convinced Washington Ho was not serious.

Later that month Stevenson, acting on his own, asked Thant where and on what level talks could take place. Thant suggested a meeting between U.S. and North Vietnamese envoys in Rangoon, Burma. Burma agreed to such a meeting, Thant said, but Washington rejected it on grounds that even the rumor of peace talks might topple the Saigon government.

Thant notified Hanoi of Washington's refusal and 24 hours later the American bombing of North Viet Nam began.

Oregon Jail Riot Quelled After One Guard Injured

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Police put down an attempted jailbreak after several prisoners stabbed a guard and took two others hostage at Multnomah County's high-security Rocky Butte jail Sunday night.

Four convicts were seized after holding out in an isolation corridor for two hours. The guard was reported recovering and the others were released unharmed.

Helping restore order were Rev. Thomas Forney, pastor of Portland's Village Baptist Church and Rev. Victory Grabrian, assistant pastor of St. Rita's Roman Catholic Church.

There was no clear explanation of what made the men surrender and what kept 45 prisoners silent in their cells during the outbreak.

"I don't think we did the convincing," said Father Grabrian. Sheriff Donald Clark said he wasn't sure just what caused the men to give up. But they had reached the final solid steel door to which there was no key. It unlocks only from the outside.

NUMBER UNKNOWN

How many prisoners besides the four were involved was uncertain. Chief Deputy Edgar Miller said early today that preliminary questioning suggested "a couple or three."

But most of the prisoners sat back in the far corners of their cells, the sheriff said.

The trouble started when guard William Forsythe, 51, unlocked a third-floor cell to take a prisoner to the dispensary. The man pressed a scissors blade to the side of Forsythe, grabbed his keys and released several others.

They grabbed the medical deputy, Paul Sarriguarte, about 40, but he escaped. The prisoners took his medical kit containing barbiturates and amphetamines. The second is a stimulant, the first a depressant.

Some Supermarkets Stop Games After Protest By Shoppers

NEW YORK (AP)—After protests from picketing housewives, two U.S. supermarket chains have decided to drop promotional games.

Some others indicate they may follow suit when their current promotions end, an Associated Press survey showed.

In Kansas City, games may be on the way out altogether. There supermarket groups there have dropped games in which customers win prizes.

Safeway Stores Inc., second-largest supermarket operation in the United States, announced this week it would get out of the game business in January—although its bonus bingo was credited for half of the chain's 1966 sales increase.

"They've run their course," said Robert Magowan, Safeway chairman. "We don't think they have raised prices, but if the housewife thinks that, we won't fight her."

Purity Stores Inc., an 84-store chain in northern California, dropped its sweepstakes games earlier, and offered a choice of blue chip stamps or a cash rebate of slightly more than 15 cents on $10.

"It has become abundantly clear to us that games have lost their popularity," said Harold Ward, Purity president.

A AND P UNDECEDED

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., which operates the largest U.S. chain, said in New York last week it was neither adding nor dropping promotional games now.

"But that doesn't mean tomorrow or next week we won't change," an A and P spokesman said.

"It is something always under study, and we leave it to our five divisions to work out their own promotions to fit local situations."

Then in Kansas City, A and P joined Kroger Co. and Milgram Stores, a Kansas City chain, in dropping games.

Currently A and P doesn't have any games in its eastern division, from northern New Jersey to New England, but does in its other four divisions.

Kroger Co. in Cincinnati, Ohio, third-largest chain, issues trading stamps and runs an assortment of games.

A.C.T. OFFICIAL CLAIMS

City Travellers' Industry Warrants Chamber Position

Cedric Stringer Saturday night was installed as president of the Kelowna and district branch of the Associated Canadian Travel-

Some 75 commercial travellers attended the installation ceremony, Miles Boyd, Vancouver, dominion vice-president of the A.C.T., was the installing officer.

Mr. Stringer, speaking to A.C.T. members, recommended that an A.C.T. member be appointed to the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce executive.

There are at least 100 travellers living in Kelowna. If all these operated from one building there would be headlines about Kelowna's newest big industry, with its million dollar payroll, tax benefits, business incentive.

But because commercial travellers are scattered, they are not regarded as an industry, Mr. Stringer said.

HIGHLY RESPECTED

"The commercial traveller to day is a highly respected man in his community. He is the public relations officer for his firm and for industry," Mr. Stringer said.

The A.C.T. has 5,000 members in 97 clubs in Canada. Mr. Boyd reminded members during the installation.

Two recent A.C.T. donations were formally presented during the meeting.

George Phillipson, president of the Kelowna Boys' Club, accepted a $1,000 pledge from the A.C.T. towards the boys' club building fund.

The A.C.T. is giving major support to the boys' club this year.

Wallace MacCrimmon accepted a $100 donation on behalf of the Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association.

Two vice-presidents, John Stefanyshin and Gerry Melnick, were installed in office.

Directors installed were: William Wood, Doug May, Ken Sanborn, Howard Maxson, Jerry Penner, Norman Fenske, George Scott and Bert Starling.

Lorne Purchas is the immediate past president.

ing team formed to help celebrate the centennial of Canada's confederation.

The team, due to perform in Kelowna during the 1967 Regatta, will wear blazers carrying a crest designed by Filt. Lt. Bebb.

The pilot, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bebb of 2237 Richter St., worked on the crest design right up until the time he was killed and on the day of his last flight said the design finally looked right.

Stationed at the Canadian Forces Base, Portage la Prairie, Filt. Lt. Bebb died when his single-engine Tudor jet aircraft crashed in a field near Carman, Man.

Filt. Lt. Bebb's fellow team members were shocked by the accident, which happened while the Centennaires were in level flight and had nothing to do with aerobatics. But, it didn't shake their faith in the project and they are continuing to plan for their 100 shows, beginning with the opening of Expo 67 and continuing until the end of December.

They will cross Canada four times during the tour, in a pace twice as hectic as that maintained by the RCAF Golden Hawks, the team which appeared in Kelowna in August, 1963 and disbanded the next year.

The Centennaires began training in September, flying Canadian Tudor jets, the 485 m.p.h., twin-seat trainers used by the Canadian Forces.

When the Centennaires reach Kelowna their act is certain to take on more meaning. They will hope for blue sky and good flying to put on the best show possible, for Tom Bebb, who should have been here with them.

Cloudy . . .

Clouds with scattered showers, mixed with snow at higher levels, was forecast for today and Tuesday.

The weatherman said continuing mild temperatures can be expected, with a low tonight of 35 and high Tuesday of 45.

During the weekend, daytime temperatures were relatively mild, with 38 Saturday and 41 Sunday. Saturday night, the temperature dropped to only 33 Saturday night, but dipped to 28 Sunday night.

On the same day last year, temperatures were 49 and 41.

SOLDIERS JOIN IN

REGINA (CP) — Veterans' Week in Saskatchewan will be part of the national centennial program June 11 to 17 next year. Old soldiers from the First and Second World Wars will be honored.

Col. Donald McGowan, chairman of the B.C. Liquor Control Board, announced last week there will be no extension of drinking hours.

No drinks may be served to the public on Sunday by law. Drinking establishments must close by midnight Saturday, he said.

The liquor board chairman said operators of bars and licensed dining rooms and cabarets must decide whether they will close before midnight to allow employees time with their families.

All liquor stores in the province will close at 6 p.m. on both days, legal drinking hours will not be relaxed.

MD Campaign Success Seen

Kelowna volunteer firemen are gathering their muscular dystrophy campaign collection canisters this week, confident of success.

About 75 boxes were distributed to stores, service stations, barber shops and beauty salons in a week-long drive to raise funds for financing research in combating the disease.

Firemen across Canada conduct similar campaigns in aiding the fight against the disease, which destroys the voluntary muscles and is particularly crippling among children.

This year, for the first time, the muscular dystrophy campaign in this area was extended to Rutland and Okanagan Mission and campaign chairman Lea Wegeliner said early indications point to a successful campaign.

He said three canisters already brought in "were overflowing."

Last year, the total collected in the boxes was about $78.

Mounties Get Their Ducks

Eleven ducks went AWL Saturday en route to Kelowna, by bus from Salmon Arm.

The ducks, contained in a cardboard box, were being brought to Kelowna by Mrs. Michael Tarr, Richter Street.

When she arrived home she discovered the ducks were missing and reported the loss to the RCMP.

The story had a happy ending however. The Enderby detachment of the RCMP reported the ducks were turned in to police in that centre. Incidentally the ducks were dead ducks.

Liquor Charge Brings Fine

A Kelowna youth was fined $50 in magistrate's court today on a charge under the Government Liquor Act.

Douglas Miltenberger, 823 Burne Ave., pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor. The prosecutor said the accused was a passenger in a vehicle checked by police at 12:40 a.m. Nov. 27 and was found with an unsealed bottle of beer.

Miltenberger told the magistrate he found the beer alongside the road. Magistrate D. M. White said the car could be seized in such a case, even though Miltenberger may not have been the driver. The prosecutor said police are inclined to seize the car in cases where the beer is "found."

I. C. S. Collett, Okanagan Mission, was convicted of a charge of backing when unsafe to do so and was fined $25. The charge was laid as a result of an accident Nov. 5 on Lawrence Avenue.

In magistrate's court Saturday, Barry Leo Peters of Cranbrook, was sentenced to 30 days in jail plus a $300 fine, or in default two months, on a charge of impaired driving. He was prohibited from driving for 12 months. The charge was laid as a result of an accident Saturday on Pandosy Street.

Donald John Lorenz, 20, of the Pandosy Trailer Court, pleaded not guilty to two charges and was remanded to Dec. 9. He was charged with making threats to kill or cause injury, by person and by letter, and with being a minor in a licensed premise.

C. Ross Lander, Kelowna lawyer, was representing the minister of national revenue Thursday in the case of Delta Construction Ltd., not the accused as previously reported.

Brown Brothers Certain Roy Would Survive

The brothers of Roy Brown, who is recovering with his wife in the Colville, Wash., hospital after surviving an aircraft crash and 11 days in the bush, had no doubt the couple would survive if they were not killed in the crash.

Clarence Brown of Regina was quoted as saying his brother would walk out of the bush in the spring if necessary. He had enough food and supplies and good survival knowledge.

Clarence and his brother Murray of Fort Worth, Texas, drove from Vancouver to Kelowna with a cousin, Jack Thomson of Kelowna soon after the Saskatchewan couple was reported missing in their light aircraft on a flight to the Grey Cup game and a family reunion in Vancouver.

Mr. Thomson said the two brothers came with him to Kelowna to help if possible in the search. The pair has since gone to Regina but Mr. Thomson said Clarence phoned him today to express the family's thanks for help they received while here.

He said particular thanks was due local pilots who conducted their own search with the permission of RCAF Search and Rescue co-ordinator Filt. Lt. Al Winter of Penticton.

"When we arrived home, Don Day, Cliff Renfrew and Jack Duffy were at the house within an hour and sat studying maps all night," said Mr. Thomson.

The following day, the local search began with the help of Ralph Hermansen, Stu Walker, Art Fay, John Zdralek and Bob Bluet.

Mr. Thomson said the men had "pin-pointed logical areas and the search should be carried out and one of these was the Copper Butte area."

The pair was found in that area Sunday.

Poor weather in the area made an air search impossible and Mrs. Brown said in hospital one plane was so close she could see the maroon color.

Mr. Thomson said this was a "pin-pointed logical area and the search should be carried out and one of these was the Copper Butte area."

He said the brother was impressed "with the amount of work Kelowna people did and their prompt response in helping."

"He phoned from Regina to make sure these people were thanked," said Mr. Thomson.

Six Aldermanic Hopefuls Set For Aquatic Wednesday

A choice of six candidates for three city council seats and consideration of two large money matters in Saturday's civic elections is expected to produce a good turnout Wednesday at a public affairs forum.

Sponsored by the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, the forum will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Kelowna Aquatic with five-minute addresses by each of the aldermanic candidates.

The six, with probable varied views on civic administration, will be questioned by the public after all have finished speaking.

Another question period will follow these speakers.

Seeking council seats this year are incumbents Thomas Angus, J. W. Bedford and D. A. Chapman. They will be opposed by labor representatives P. J. Driedger and Jack Welder and former alderman E. R. Winter.

Police Issue Reminder Pedestrians Must Watch

Pedestrians do not always second. Police suggest that during Safe Driving Week drivers adopt the slogan keep alert for pedestrians—do not maim or kill and pedestrians remember to watch out for cars, stay alive.

The Motor Vehicle Act says "No pedestrian shall leave a curb or other place of safety and walk or run into the path of a vehicle that is so close that it is impracticable for the driver to yield the right-of-way."

The act also says when a pedestrian is crossing a highway at a point other than within a crosswalk, he shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle.

In spite of these two directions, the act also warns drivers to exercise due care to avoid colliding with a pedestrian, to sound the horn when necessary and to take special precautions for children or incapacitated people.

A driver travelling at 30 m.p.h., the speed limit on city streets, travels 44 feet per second.

Butch Columbia's government workers will get a four-day holiday at Christmas this year and three days at New Year's.

The cabinet has endorsed an order in council designating New Year's Eve fall on Saturday.

At Christmas, provincial civil servants will be off Dec. 24 to Dec. 27 inclusive and at New Year's Dec. 31 to Jan. 2 inclusive.

School children will be freed Dec. 22. Schools reopen Jan. 3. School board staff and maintenance workers will be off Dec. 24 to Dec. 29 inclusive. They will return to work Dec. 30 and will work Jan. 2.

Although Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve fall on Saturday, days, legal drinking hours will not be relaxed.

Col. Donald McGowan, chairman of the B.C. Liquor Control Board, announced last week there will be no extension of drinking hours.

No drinks may be served to the public on Sunday by law. Drinking establishments must close by midnight Saturday, he said.

14-Year-Old Girl Injured In Early Sunday Accident

A 14-year-old city girl was taken to the Kelowna General Hospital early Sunday with injuries suffered in a car accident at Weddell Place and Ethel Street.

Virginia Pavle, Flemish Street, suffered a broken leg, broken back and possible internal injuries, police say. Hospital authorities said today her condition was "fairly good."

Miss Pavle was a passenger in a car driven by John Earl Wilkinson of Scott Road, which failed to negotiate a turn, jumped a 15-foot ditch and smashed into a wall.

Yorkshire Pudding, Fox Hunt The Wednesday Movie Fare

Three British travel films will be shown at the Kelowna branch of the Okanagan Regional Library Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The three films, Westward Ho! The Three Seasons and On the Menu, will be screened in color.

The Three Seasons follows the spectacular goings-on in Britain during the fall, winter and spring, Mrs. E. V. Blumer, film librarian, said today.

A gala performance, starring Margot Fonteyn, at the Royal Ballet, Guy Fawkes Day celebrations, British Christmas and New Year festivities are some of the film's highlights.

The film also takes a look at a fox hunt, a horse show, concerts and art exhibitions.

Westward Ho! takes the viewer to England's wild west. Here the lonely moors meet the sea in the land of smugglers, caves and sunny beaches. The film visits places with such names as Mousehole, Clovelly and Bedruthan Steps.

In the film On the Menu, two visitors leaving Britain aboard a jet aircraft relive their memories of the country. Dishes on the aircraft's menu—Yorkshire pudding, Scotch salmon, Devonshire cream—remind them of places they visited.

A GLIMPSE OF THE WONDERFUL SNO-BALL FROLIC

Lions' Ladies Set Sno-Ball Frolic In Glittering Winter Wonderland

By FLORA EVANS

Every year Kelownians look forward to the annual Sno-Ball Frolic held at the Kelowna Aquatic under the auspices of the Lions' Ladies. There are no door prizes, no gimmicks, no elaborate supper; just a gay evening of dancing in an unbelievably beautiful setting enjoyed by groups of friends who return to the homes of their hosts for supper after midnight. As usual reservations for this popular event were filled weeks ahead and some 300 people attended the frolic Saturday night.

The Sno-Ball Frolic is the major annual project of the Lions' Ladies and welcoming the guests on their arrival were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Charles De Puyfer. Mrs. Robson is president of the Lions' Ladies, and Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. De Puyfer were co-conveners of the frolic.

It does not seem possible that the blue and white winter setting for the ball could be improved on, but each year the hard-working decorating committee manage to surpass the previous year. On entering the Aquatic Saturday night the guests were welcomed by a jaunty snowman in a stove pipe hat presiding over the foyer wall. Silver Christmas trees flanked this backdrop and red poinsettias and greenery set Mr. Snowman off.

The Aqua ballroom was a wonderland of blue and white with touches of red and green. Blue and white icicles and balls dangled from the looped streamers of blue and white which formed the ceiling, and were around the central post. The archways were outlined in greenery and on the windows of the outside wall snowmen peered down on the dancers. Set in front of the verandah wall were sparkling silver Christmas trees strung with tiny blue lights, and refreshments were served from the verandah. Clusters of vivid blue balloons topped the posts and reversed silver and gold bells, bearing tall blue and red tapers, centered the long tables.

Bert Hill's orchestra played for the dance on a platform encircled with blue lights and greenery against a backdrop of blue and silver-white stars, and one lovely shining silver tree was set in the foreground. The lounge which was also filled with tables was set off with a blue and white snowflake backdrop, clusters of blue balloons, silver trees and blue and white streamers.

I can, of course mention only a few of the lovely gowns glimpsed on the dance floor. Mrs. W. S. Robson was charming in an Empire line formal of delicate pale yellow brocade and satin, with a brocade panel falling gracefully from the high back waistline. Mrs. G. H. Wilson's lovely dress was of black chiffon and lace, with a black lace underskirt softening the hem line; Mrs. P. R. Moubray's smart white lace overblouse topped a slim black skirt and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell was lovely in a dress of robin's egg blue chiffon with a bodice of blue and gold brocade.

Mrs. Cam Lipsett's overblouse of rose, green, blue and gold lame, topped a black crepe skirt; Mrs. A. M. Carter's formal with bodice of heavy matching lace was in a gorgeous shade of turquoise green and Mrs. Victor Haddad's smart dress featured a silver metallic tailored bodice and slim black crepe skirt.

Mrs. Donald Johnston's long turquoise brocade evening suit was worn with a white brocade overblouse; Mrs. Charles De Puyfer's pretty formal was of lace and crepe in a soft avocado green shade; Mrs. Graham Benedict's gold and beige brocade sheath featured long fitted sleeves and Mrs. Hugh Fox's silver and white lame shell and long black skirt were worn with a jade green and gold brocade mandarin jacket.

Miss Lee MacKay wore a tent dress of lime green crepe fashioned with a shawl collar of white sequins; Mrs. Percy Priest was very smart in a long two-piece dress of white crepe with jet beading and banding setting off the long overblouse. Mrs. Bert Bowles wore a sheath of pale turquoise and silver brocade with a matching jacket; Mrs. Gordon V. Smith was charming in a white crepe sheath of classic simplicity and Mrs. Douglas Sutherland's long black sheath was topped with a long overblouse of gold and silver brocade.

The frolic was as usual a tremendous success and we understand some Lions and their ladies drove from as far as Kamloops to attend the annual event.

ANN LANDERS

Does Your Postman Have A Problem?

Dear Ann Landers: Our 18-year-old son wants to be a postman during the Christmas rush so he can make some extra money. He says his friends who worked as postmen last year had a blast. The "blast" part has me worried.

Some time ago I heard a news story about West German postmen. It seems they are having trouble holding young, unmarried fellows on the job over there because the housewives keep pulling the boys into their homes.

One postman quit because a woman on his route kept hollering for him to bring the mail upstairs to her bedroom. Another young man quit because a woman insisted on meeting him at the door wearing only the bottom of a bikini. Two other women on his route did their housework in the nude.

Because of the column you write, Ann, you get in on strange happenings that most people never heard about. Do the postmen in the U.S. have these problems? -- NAIVE OR STUPID

Dear N or S: I don't know about the postmen, but the meter-readers have had their troubles.

Let the boy take the job if he wants it. He's bound to run into all types of women sooner or later and perhaps if he runs into them sooner it will save him some trouble later.

Dear Ann Landers: Fourteen years ago I married a widower with two sons. I couldn't love these boys more if they were my own flesh and blood.

Last month our older son was married to a wonderful girl. There were several parties before the wedding and the boy's maternal grandmother attended every party, which was of course proper.

Every time I turned around I heard grandmother telling someone that I was not the boy's REAL mother, that her daughter was the REAL mother, that I came into the family after the REAL training had been done.

At the wedding reception, grandmother was in the receiving line. He, Anne could be heard above everyone's. She kept shouting, "This is not the groom's mother, you know. She is a stepmother. My daughter is the REAL mother."

If I have to go through another ordeal like this one when our second son marries, I'll have a nervous breakdown. Please tell me what you think of her incredible behavior. -- TENSION IN TULSA

Dear Tulsa: Grandmother's lack of tact is inexcusable, and I would not attempt to defend her. You can understand, however, that the poor woman is deeply grieved because her own daughter did not live to see the boy marry. Since this thought was weighing heavily on her mind and her heart, she couldn't keep from expressing it and I hope you will forgive her.

SEEKS HELP AT FAMILY PLANNING CLINIC

Family Planning Is A Must In Overcrowded Hong Kong

Milwok Moi Leen is 31 years old. Her husband works as a coolie in a mill factory in Hong Kong where he makes 250 HK dollars — less than $40 a month. They live in a squatters hut with three other families; altogether 20 people are crammed into one small room. And unless there is a fire, they have no hope of being moved to a resettlement block.

Milwok Moi Leen has three children. The youngest was only seven weeks old when Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova met her in a Family Planning Clinic, one of 52 in the Colony. Because the Unitarian Service Committee believes that family planning is a "must" to reduce poverty and hunger, it has made birth control a major part of its current program.

With four million people living in 400 square miles, one to two thousand refugees arriving every month from the mainland and a new baby born every five minutes, overcrowding is the Colony's major problem.

In 1965, the USC gave its first grant of $5,000 to the Hong Kong Family Planning Association. Over the past year there has been a two per cent drop in the population growth. The USC increased its contribution this year and is anxious to do much more.

Contributions may be sent to the Unitarian Service Committee, 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa 4 and the Bank of Montreal, 294 Bernard Ave., Kelowna.

Girl Guides And Brownies Need More Group Leaders

Guiders Training

Three hundred and thirty-three (333) Guides, Brownies and Rangers are registered in the Girl Guide Movement in Kelowna District No. 1 and 27 Guiders, or leaders. More leaders are needed in almost all groups and a Training Session for new leaders is being held at the Anglican Parish Hall at 8 p.m. on Dec. 8. Help is especially needed for the Girl Guide Companies, and some Brownie Packs. The Guide Companies, of which there are five, meet in the evening while the Brownie Packs all meet after school. Any volunteers, over 17 years of age, with or without previous experience in Guiding would be welcome to this Basic Training Course, which will concentrate on fundamentals and ceremonies. Mrs. E. M. Edy and Mrs. W. C. Moonen, District Guiders, will be the instructors and further information could be received from them or from District Commissioner, Mrs. E. N. Denison.

2nd Kelowna

Four recruits of the 2nd Kelowna Guide Company were admitted as Guides through the Enrolment Ceremony during November. Wendy Coulthard, Sheila Chapman, Jane Snowsell and Janet Denison successfully completed their Tenderfoot Test and were enrolled by District Commissioner, Mrs. E. N. Denison. Due to a shortage of leaders, Mrs. Denison is also acting Captain of the company, assisted by Lieutenants Miss Kathy Swardy and Miss Donna Stoppa. Both Miss Swardy and Miss Stoppa were Guides in Kelowna, and are now active as leaders.

Elected by the Guides to be Patrol Leaders for the Company were Ann Day, Charlene Connechy, Janet Harland and Margo Monteith, who chose as their Seconders, Jennifer Johnson, Brenda Dukelow, Jocelyn Lange and Jeanette Thompson.

Proficiency Badges earned by the Guides during November were as follows: Jeanette Thompson — Gardener, Home-maker and Minstrel; Brenda Dukelow and Anne Ellis — skier; Galye Stewart, Cindy Vaughan and Wendy Coulthard — Swimmer; and Janet Harland the Child Care Badge.

Guiders Meeting

The November meeting of the Guiders of Kelowna District No. 1 saw seven adults, long interested in the Guide Movement become enrolled members of the Girl Guides of Canada. Making their promise before District Commissioner, Mrs. E. N. Denison, were six Guiders: Mrs. R. McFadden, Mrs. P. G. Jones, Evans, Mrs. P. M. Stanton, Mrs. S. Matwychuk, Mrs. R. R. Stack, and Miss Colette Brockman. Also enrolled was Mrs. A. S. Hughes-Games, the Chairman of Kelowna District No. 1 Guide Association. Mrs. Denison presented each of these new members with a World Pin worn by Girl Guides and Girl Scouts throughout the world.

A presentation of Warrants followed the enrolment ceremony. Mrs. E. M. Edy and Mrs. W. C. Moonen received Warrants as District Guiders and were presented with their District Guider pins by Mrs. Hughes-Games, on behalf of the Guide Association. Mrs. Denison then presented Warrants to Mrs. Hugh Earle as Captain of the Kelowna Sea Rangers; Mrs. R. E. McFadden, Brown Owl of the 2nd Glenmore Pack; Mrs. P. G. Switly, Tawny Owl of the 1st Glenmore Pack; and Mrs. George Trimble, Badge Secretary of the Association, who is a former Guider. In the case of the Guiders the presentation of the Warrant indicates that each

Aversion Therapy Cures Infidelity

LONDON (AP)—Two British psychiatrists say they have cured a husband of infidelity by giving him a 70-volt shock every time he looked at a photo of his paramour.

Dr. John Barker and Dr. Mabel Miller of Sheldon Hospital, Shrewsbury, said the husband now is totally in love to the other woman, a neighbor. Describing the treatment — "aversion therapy" — in the medical magazine Pulse Friday, the doctors said it had been used successfully in experiments with gamblers and homosexuals, but they believed this was the first instance of it being tried on the old familiar triangle.

They gave these details: The husband, 33, and married 10 years, became infatuated with a neighbor's wife and later admitted his unfaithfulness to his own wife. She eventually forgave him but he became depressed and remorseful because he was still attracted to his former paramour. With both women agreeing to help in the therapy, he submitted to the shock treatment. Pictures of his wife and the other woman were flashed alternately on a screen in a darkened room. Every time the photograph of the other woman was projected, the husband got an electric shock of 70 volts to his wrist. Treatment was in half-hour sessions for about six days.

Q. WHY ADD ANOTHER BUILDING FOR CHRONIC CARE?

A. It is most important that provision be made for the care of our elderly chronically ill patients. The Community has for many years clamored for such a facility. Previous attempts to get a chronic hospital started have failed, to fall now would be a calamity. Government has insisted that the chronic care build. We also think it is in the best interests of the patients.

"What can the college do for me?"

Bruce Husband, 18, is finishing Grade 12 at Salmon Arm High School this year. He doesn't want to go to University. He wants to take a technological course in agriculture and he wishes the new Okanagan Regional College was built because he could study there.

But it isn't, so he will take whatever job he can find. Perhaps later, when the college is built, he can take a course for a progressive career, but it's a pity he has to waste any time.

Bruce Husband is just one of hundreds of young men and women in the Okanagan region who would like to continue their education to develop special skills — but can't — because the facilities aren't there.

You can help change this for young people like Bruce by voting for the Okanagan Regional College referendum and giving them the facilities they need for higher education. The future of the Okanagan rests with our young people.

Leafs Lack Full Team But Manage To Lead NHL

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Maple Leafs are having a hard time keeping a full complement of regular players on the ice for a National Hockey League game this season of injuries.

However, with or without a full team, they are knocking off their opponents with regularity to lead in the standings.

The Leafs gained first place during the weekend with a 5-2 victory over the sagging Detroit Red Wings Saturday night and a convincing 8-3 rout of Boston Bruins Sunday night.

Red Kelly, Dave Keon, Jim Pappin, Bob Pulford and George Armstrong scored for the Leafs Saturday. Ted Hampson and Ray Cullen replied for the Red Wings.

Sunday, Keon scored a pair of goals and Pappin, Pulford, Kelly, Brian Conacher, Frank Mahovlich and John Breenneman got the others. Ron Murphy, Wayne Connelly and John McKenzie scored for Boston.

In Saturday's other action, Montreal Canadiens shaded Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 on goals by Claude Provost, Dick Duff and Jean Beliveau. Ken Wharram scored the lone Chicago goal.

Don Marshall and Arnie Brown scored a goal each in the second period to wipe out a 2-0 Boston lead and earn New York Rangers a 2-2 tie Saturday. Ron Stewart and Connelly scored for Boston.

Claude Larose scored two goals and assisted on John Ferguson's goal as the Canadiens downed the Rangers 3-1 Sunday. Jim Neilson was the lone New York marksman.

In Sunday's other game, the Hawks got a pair of goals from Wharram and one each from defencemen Pierre Plante and Doug Jarrett to down the Red Wings 4-1. Norm Ullman scored for Detroit.

Toronto's convincing victory Sunday was the Maple Leafs third straight over the slumping Bruins, who have only one tie in their last five outings.

The Bruins suffered a crippling blow when rookie defence-man Bobby Orr, 18, suffered a sprained internal ligament in the left knee and will be sidelined for three weeks.

The Leafs have been beaten only once in their last eight games, giving them a record of nine wins, four losses and seven ties in 20 games this year.

The Leafs hold down first place with 25 points, one more than the Hawks and three more than the Rangers.

Toronto's victory Saturday night ran the club's unbeaten streak on home ice this year to 10 regular-season games.

The Canadiens played up to the form that won them the league championship and Stanley Cup last season as they downed the Hawks and the Rangers in their two weekend outings.

Wharram's two goals against the Red Wings Sunday gave him 11 for the season and moved him into a tie for fourth place with three other players in the individual scoring race.

Stan Mikita picked up three assists in the game to open up an 11-point lead in the individual scoring race. Mikita has 32 points on 11 goals and a league-leading 21 assists. He shares the lead in goal scoring with Wharram and New York's Marshall.

The Rangers got some stand-out netminding from Ed Giacomin Saturday when the Bruins rifled a total of 47 shots at him. However, he held only one goal and had to settle for the tie. Stewart's goal at 9:15 of the first period snapped Giacomin's shutout string at 175 minutes, 24 seconds.

Two games are scheduled for Wednesday night. The Canadiens will play host to Toronto and the Bruins will clash with the Rangers in New York.

Million Dollar Offence Worth Peanuts In NFL Loss

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Terry Nofsinger suddenly made St. Louis' offence look like a million dollars but it wasn't worth peanuts in the Dallas fog.

The Cowboys groped their way through the drizzle and the Cardinals Sunday, beating St. Louis 31-17 and grabbing sole possession of first place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

The Cards and Cowboys went into the game tied for the top with identical 8-2-1 records.

Nofsinger won the statistical battle, impressively over Don Meredith but lost the points war by almost as wide a margin.

He completed 21 passes, gaining 201 yards through the air, and directed a Cardinal offence that chalked up 21 first downs to only 11 for the Cowboys.

Meredith, who came out on top on the scoreboard, completed only seven passes for 84 yards.

How then did the Cowboys win by 14 points? Three turnovers fumbled and two interceptions did the job.

FUMBLES CATCH

Johnny Roland fumbled a catch and Dallas' J. D. Smith recovered at the Cardinal 45.

Dan Reeves sprinted for the score on the next play.

After Nofsinger had driven St. Louis to a field goal and a touchdown — their first since Nov. 6 when Johnson was injured — Dallas struck again. A pass interference call and a personal foul penalty helped the Cowboys chew up the yardage and Meredith's 25-yard pass to Bob Hayes gave them the touchdown.

Then Mel Renfro returned an intercepted Nofsinger pass 33 yards to the St. Louis' three and Don Perkins slammed in for the score.

Elsewhere, Green Bay Packers clinched at least a tie for the Western Conference crown by beating San Francisco 49ers 20-7.

Baltimore Colts kept their chances alive with a 21-16 last-minute victory over Chicago Bears.

Cleveland Browns downed New York Giants 49-40, Philadelphia Eagles got by Pittsburgh Steelers 27-23, Atlanta Falcons upset Minnesota Vikings 20-13 and Los Angeles Rams whipped Detroit Lions 23-3.

STARR STARS

Bart Starr, who passed for 236 yards, got Green Bay started early when he hooked up on an 83-yard touchdown pass with Carroll Dale on the third play of the game.

Starr marched the Packers downfield and plunged over from the one-yard line for another Green Bay touchdown.

Baltimore remained two games behind with only two games left as Johnny Unitas hurled a 24-yard touchdown pass to Ray Berry with 39 seconds remaining to beat Chicago.

Cleveland scored twice in the final 1 1/2 minutes, ending New York's upset hopes. Ernie Green took a screen pass 31 yards for one touchdown and Bill Gaskins returned a recovered fumble 13 yards for the other.

Leroy Kelly scored three times and gained 126 yards rushing for the Browns.

SUCCESSFUL RETURN
Reserve quarterback Jack Concannon drove Philadelphia past Pittsburgh. Making his first start in almost two years, Concannon completed 13 passes, 11 for 131 yards and gained 129 more running.

Bob Riddle returned an intercepted pass 62 yards for one touchdown and recovered a fumble on the Minnesota one-yard line, setting up another Atlanta win its second game.

The interception was one of five for the Falcons.

Bruce Gossett kicked three field goals and Los Angeles converted two interceptions into touchdowns as the Rams beat Detroit. It was the Rams' fourth straight victory—their longest winning streak in 13 years.

Five Injured In Race Crash
MONTREAL (CP) — One driver suffered broken ribs and five others came away with bruises after a collision involving six horses at Blue Bonnets Raceway Saturday night.

The incident started when a pacer named Joe Symbol broke a bone in his leg while making a bid to overhaul another horse, Shafter Diamond, in the 10th race of the evening.

Joe Symbol fell to the ground and the other horses were involved in the pile up.

Sarto Guay, driving Mohawk Princess, suffered two broken ribs as a result of the accident in front of the main grandstand.

No injuries to the other horses were reported.

IS NOTHING STILL SACRED IN ICE HOCKEY TRADITION?

TORONTO (CP)—Colored hockey sticks made their appearance Sunday during an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A game between Toronto Marlboros and Hamilton Red Wings.

In the game, televised in color, Marlboros used bright blue sticks and the Red Wings played with crimson-colored sticks.

Hamilton won 5-1.

The idea originated with Hamilton manager-coach Eddie Bush, who said he only wanted to add a little more color to the game.

Darkness Halts Crucial Match And Davis Cup Final Postponed

CALCUTTA (Reuters)—Thomas Koch of Brazil led India's Ramanathan Krishnan two sets to one when darkness stopped their crucial match in the Davis Cup inter-zonal final today. It will be completed Tuesday.

The two countries were tied 2-2 in the best-of-five series with Koch leading in the crucial fifth match 6-3, 4-6, 12-10.

Earlier today Jose Mandarino had put Brazil back into the match with a five-set win over India's Jaideep Mukherjee at 6-7, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

When play started today, India led 2-1, each country won a singles match Saturday, with India taking Sunday's doubles.

The winners will meet Australia, the holders, in the challenge round at Melbourne, Dec. 26-28.

India took a 2-1 lead in the matches Sunday when Krishnan and Mukherjee thrilled the highly-partisan gallery of 6,000 by defeating Koch and Mandarino 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 in the doubles.

26 Pounds Decides AFL Game

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Nance's 26 pounds was the difference between the bench and the record book.

Nance's running highlighted Boston Patriots' 14-3 American Football League victory over Buffalo Bills Sunday, a victory that all but gave the Patriots the Eastern Division title.

Nance scored once and gained 109 yards, raising his record rushing total to 1,234 yards for the season.

All in all, it's a big change from the former Syracuse Chiefs star's 1963 season in the AFL, his first, during which he spent most of the time gaining weight instead of yards.

When the scales hit 262, Nance hit the bench, but this year there have been changes.

"I got my weight down to 236," he said. I can make better, sharper cuts now. And I set my goal as being the best back in the league."

Nance's touchdown was a 65-yard effort the longest rush of his career—and he also supplied a key block that broke quarterback Babe Parilli for a three-yard scoring rush.

JETS-RAIDERS TIE
In other AFL games, San Diego Chargers beat Houston Oilers 28-27, Denver Broncos took Miami Dolphins 17-7, and in a Saturday game, Oakland Raiders and New York Jets fought to a 28-28 tie.

John Hadl hit Jacques MacGinnon with a 12-yard pass in the end zone with just 31 seconds left in the game for San Diego's winning margin. Hadl also threw scoring passes of 25 and 31 yards to Lance Alworth and another of 24 yards to Gary Garrison.

A Happy Precedent? The Nation Hopes So

The decision of striking Air Canada employees to return to work came about without any public or behind-the-scenes pressure by the federal government. We hope this will be a happy precedent for the future.

Obviously sensitive to criticism for his intervention in so-called "national interest" strikes, Prime Minister Pearson made a point of staying out of this one. He held out even under pressure from the union, whose members sensed a fat contract, basing their hopes on the "Pearson Formula" settlements in the Seaway and Quebec waterfront disputes.

But, (wonders never cease) Mr.

Pearson and his advisors decided to let professional and experienced negotiators work out their own differences.

There was no clear and demonstrable "crisis" and this undoubtedly played a major part in keeping the government from pulling up a chair at the bargaining table. The air strike was inconvenient for many, but the majority of Canadians adjusted well to the difficulties.

The example set by Mr. Pearson is well worth emulating. When there is no crisis, no government should intervene in a labor dispute until both labor and management request it to do so—and not always then.

No Special Treatment

We are glad to note that Kelowna magistrate D. M. White is steadfastly refusing to increase the normal impaired driving fines in his court as an alternative to suspension of driving privileges.

In Vancouver and many other centres, some magistrates will, for instance, levy a $500 fine instead of the usual $300 assessment, then permit drivers to retain their licences.

There can be no valid reason for this. It means that a man or woman in reasonably comfortable financial circumstances will suffer little inconvenience after being convicted of a deadly serious crime.

Licence suspension is more than punishment. It serves two other purposes—it has a deterrent effect, and the public is protected for a limited period from a driver who has no business on the road.

The man or woman who drives professionally often appeals successfully to the court that he or she would be unfairly inconvenienced through loss of a driver's licence. Often the convicted person gets to keep the licence, although sometimes with the rider that the car be used for business purposes only for a set period.

Unfortunately, however, it is precisely this sort of person who should not get preferred treatment. For no one knows better than a professional driver just how important it is to keep idiots off the highways. There must be exceptions of course, laws are designed that way, with some flexibility.

But people who depend on an automobile for their incomes, should be doubly careful when they are on the road. Most of them are—relatively few truck drivers, for instance, are hailed into court for drinking-driving offences.

They know better than to endanger their bread and butter.

A Start In Africa?

A beachhead for the Chinese Communists in darkest Africa was consolidated last week.

In a bloodless coup while Burundi's young king Ntare V was on a visit to the Congo, Prime Minister Michel Micombero, seized power.

The overthrow of the ancient monarchy and the establishment of a republic is a step toward the left for the country of 3,000,000.

It also foreshadows more bloody strife between the country's giant Watutsi and the more numerous Bantu, Bahutu.

The coup is seen by many observers as another success for the tribal extremists of the Watutsi.

Micombero, a dandy, 26-year-old, former army captain, announced a 12-man revolutionary committee had been formed. The members are all military men and mostly of a left-wing persuasion. The committee members are also all members of the Watutsi tribe.

The move by the Watutsi was followed by the customary assurance that the military men would only rule until a "democratic constitution" could be prepared.

"There will be one social class with the same rights and opportunities for all," said Micombero.

In Communist lands, where the positions of power always fall to the strongest and wildest, the words will be greeted with acclaim.

And in keeping with the usual Communist pattern Micombero added that anyone who questioned the new regime would be severely punished.

The Watutsi faction is devoted to keeping up the 500-year hold their tribe has had over the Buhutu. It also seeks the unification of the country with Rwanda, which since 1962 has been ruled by a Buhutu government.

The Buhutus took over amid much blood-letting and it is certain the proud Watutsi have not forgotten. Revenge is also bloody as well as sweet in Africa.

Militant Watutsi are known to have contacts with the Chinese in Peking and in neighboring Tanzania, which has also come under the Chinese influence.

The next step by the Chinese will be the reestablishment of an embassy in Bujumbura, the Burundi capital, and a general stepping up of aid. This will be directed at tightening the grip already established by Peking in east central Africa.

It seems ironic that such lands as Burundi and Tanzania, which fought so long to achieve independence from the white colonial nations, must now fall under the threat of the Yellow Peril.

Dacoits Plague Pakistan In Anti-Feudalism Mood

By RALPH JOSEPH
Canadian Press Correspondent

KARACHI (CP)—The rash of dacoit activities that has plagued the Sindh area of West Pakistan all through the summer and autumn is considered by observers here to be a reaction against a harsh feudal system.

The bandits, armed with anything from rifles and double-barrel shotguns to swords and hatchets, have shown little respect for any kind of authority. The only people they seem to hold in awe are the "pirs" or local mystics.

For the thinly-strewn police force in the area they show obvious disdain and dramatic clashes between police possess and dacoit gangs have occurred.

When they find they are getting the worst of it in an encounter with the police, they take advantage of the rugged countryside to escape into the forested areas on the banks of the River Indus. Once in the thickets the police find it impossible to flush them out. What deters the police more is the evidence that the people living in the adjoining areas go to the aid of the dacoits, carrying food, clothes and other necessities into the forests.

Both police and local officials know the consequences of being caught, with their pants down. In a recent incident an official on an inspection tour was made to dance a jig to amuse dacoits who had surprised him on a lonely road. This was their way of getting even with him for thoughtfully leaving his wallet at home.

In another incident dacoits held up a vehicle after vehicle on a highway, calmly relieving the occupants of valuables and cash. When the deputy collector, a top administrative official of the district, happened by, he was robbed as calmly as the rest.

But not all the incidents are quite as humorous. A dacoit whose wife had at one time suffered indignities in a police station, at the whim of a local landlord and police inspector, dealt harshly with the inspector when he caught up with him. Making him, and the other officials caught, disrobe and dance a jig, he then shot the inspector dead. The landlord was also shot.

The deeply-rooted feudal system in the area, with its inequitable balance of justice, is believed to be largely responsible for the hardy men taking the law into their own hands. Many of them are descendants of the fierce Baloch tribes who harassed Gen. Charles Napier during his Sindh campaign in the middle of the last century.

WIVES ABDUCTED
An idea of the tragic injustices prevalent is conveyed by the saying that it is dangerous for a peasant to have a beautiful wife. Yet he can hardly avoid this, as Sindh women in general are rather good looking.

As the reports have it, when a landlord takes a fancy to a peasant's wife, he gets her by a simple process. Since for all practical purposes he controls both the police and the local officials, he finds it relatively easy to have the peasant thrown into jail on a frame-up, and then quietly adds the woman to his harem. When the man is released, or escapes from jail, as like as not he joins a dacoit gang and spends the rest of his life in bitter vengeance against the world at large.

Martial law in 1958 saw the eruption of 1,700 complaints from peasant-tenants whose wives had been abducted. In a palpable funk the landlords returned some 800 women to their husbands within a week. Several of these women brought with them children, deeds of land, ornaments and cash—an apparent attempt by the landlords to pacify the angry husbands.

When President Ayub shortly afterwards instituted his land reforms, it was thought for a while that the power of the landlords would be finally broken. But now it emerges that, while a good deal of land has been redistributed, the landlords by and large are as powerful as ever. Oddly enough, the landlords manage to use the dacoits to bolster up their own power. Many of the landlords hold considerable political sway locally and use the dacoit gangs against political rivals. Once a man becomes a dacoit he kills wantonly. One killed nine people in a single day.

Many will do it for cash and 1,000 rupees ($200) is said to be enough to purchase a murder.

By the end of this autumn the police, who had organized a clean-up campaign, could only claim to have killed two dacoits. Some of those wounded in the 50-odd gunfights and carried to safety by their companions may of course have died in the forests later.

Fungus Reason For Thrush Mouth

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: My son had thrush mouth at the age of five weeks. The doctor gave me a prescription for him, but he still has this trouble. His mouth is just white inside. What causes it and is there a cure? Can it return? Is it painful for him?—MRS. M.G.

Thrush is an infection of the mouth membrane caused by a yeast-like fungus, Candida albicans. It causes a white membrane which, if peeled away, causes bleeding.

The fungus is quite common but seems to affect principally newborn children whose nutrition is deficient, or who are not very strong.

If any question arises as to whether a case is thrush, microscopic examination of scrapings of the tissue will settle it.

You do not give me enough information to identify the medication you are using, or how you administer it. One treatment which has been found to be usually effective is swabbing twice a day with one or two per cent solution of gentian violet, but I know that other treatments are used.

I hesitate to say that the ailment is "painful" to the baby, but it certainly can be irritating and it sometimes makes feeding difficult. Since nutrition is very important to a very small child, this aspect must be watched closely.

Yes, thrush can recur (and it also can be stubborn, too) and once you get it under control it is wise to watch for any sign of recurrence, and stop it promptly. The fungus can be present in the household environment, and can survive indefinitely in dust.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can you give me some information about fistula and fissures? I have had two operations and there is still drainage.—M.Y.

Particularly with a fistula, healing takes time and once you understand the basic problems involved, I suspect that a discussion with your surgeon will give you a more accurate understanding of how you are progressing and what further treatment will help you.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CENTENNIAL PROJECT

Sir: In a recent edition of the Kelowna Daily Courier there was an item announcing the badly-managed project of the Centennial Committee. The project itself was to have the students of both secondary and elementary schools raise one dollar each over a two-year period.

The students were supposed to be left to decide what to do with their earned funds but it has already been "suggested" that their money be used to construct educational facilities in underdeveloped countries. Even though this is probably the best thing that the students might do with their money, the students should be allowed to decide for themselves without such coercion.

I am sure the Centennial committee would be very pleased to receive the students' hard-earned funds but I also think that as the students are earning the money they should be allowed the privilege of "calling the tune". Why not allow today's youth some responsibility in this regard?

JOHN ROELOFS
R.R. 1, Kelowna.

FACTS QUERIED

Sir: I wish to refer to your editorial on driving in today's issue of your newspaper. In it there is a paragraph reading as follows:

"Remember the manual you studied before writing your driver's licence examination? In it you were instructed to have your headlights turned on one-half hour before sunset and until one-half hour after sunrise. If you will turn to page 16 of the manual referred to you will find the following point under 'Points to remember in night driving':

"You must have your headlights on from one-half hour after sunset to half-hour before sunrise (or at any time when your vision is restricted to less than 500 feet ahead)."

There is perhaps no one who would disagree that your idea of when headlights should be on is preferable, however it would seem that if you are going to quote the manual you should do so correctly.

This is not criticism — just pointing out a mistake. If all drivers paid no attention to the intention of your editorial what I would say about that would be criticism.

How about reprinting the editorial every day during Safe Driving Week? If the reprinting only saves one life it would be well worth it.

CANADA'S STORY

First Car Driver Hard To Locate

By BOB BOWMAN

It is usually risky to say that anything happened for the first time. For instance, who had the first automobile in Canada? The answer probably depends on the definition of an automobile. In 1860, Father Belcourt, a Roman Catholic priest, had a steam-propelled vehicle in Prince Edward Island. It was demonstrated at a garden party, and the Charlottetown Examiner reported on an inside page "and with wonder and delight it was observed steaming away for half a mile on the road and back again at a fast speed. No other details were given, so the event was not taken seriously.

The firm of Dickson's, Toronto, produced a "first" automobile, and it appeared on the streets on Dec. 5, 1893. It was called a "horseless carriage" and was powered by electric batteries. The car, made for F. B. Fetherstonhaugh, K.C. could travel 15 miles without recharging its batteries.

The first Canadian-owned gasoline car was introduced by Colonel John Mordale of Hamilton, Ont. on April 2, 1898. It was a "Winton" built in the U.S.A. and looked like a horse-drawn buggy with the engine in the rear. There were spikes around the back of the car to keep people from climbing on board.

The Toronto Automobile Club was formed in 1903 and its drivers took the members of the legislature for rides. They managed to get the speed limit raised from eight to 10 miles per hour. In those days the annual licence fee for an automobile in Ontario was two dollars.

Peachland Council Meets To Catch Up On Agenda

PEACHLAND — A special regular council meeting to take care of outstanding business was held Nov. 29 in the municipal chambers.

Attending council was Rev. Dr. R. D. Mitchell, local United Church minister. More than 20 years ago the church trustees of that time Messrs. Cameron, Hunt and Todd, purchased from the municipality the lot adjoining the church, this has never been taxed in all these years.

The new municipal tax assessor entered this property on the 1966 tax roll. When looking into this matter it was found that this lot had never been registered, though it was paid for.

Dr. Mitchell brought this to council's attention, and suggested that it now be registered (The trustees of the United Church of Canada) to eliminate further problems, such as the death of a local trustee. Once property is on a tax roll, the taxes must be paid so council moved that a grant be given the United Church to pay these taxes, as set down in section 202 of the Municipal Act. A further motion exempting this property from taxation next year was passed.

The local ratepayers meeting was next discussed. Reeve Thwaite told council he had been approached by the chairman of the hospital board, who would like the opportunity to explain the hospital referendum to the voters of Peachland. It was voted to invite a speaker at the meeting which will be held in the municipal hall.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Peachland brochure committee will be held today at 8 p.m. in the municipal hall.

Council approved the sale of a set of chains which is no longer required for any of the municipal equipment to D. Renfrew for $75.

F. Topham Jr. attended council to discuss roads on the proposed subdivision of balance of his property. Stating that as matters stood now he would be donating twice as much acreage as his neighbors to continue Beach Ave. through this property, and while he is quite willing to do this and pay for the survey, he would like some consideration in other ways. He was assured that council will try to be fair to all and treat each case on its own merit.

A request from A. Topham for information as to whether the road through his property will be open this winter was referred to councillor Clements for comment. He said money was short in his department and the continued work on this road would have to be council's decision. After some discussion as to the size of culvert at this fill, it was decided that the road should go ahead when weather permits.

Approval was given to the subdivision plans of R. C. Seed. Clerk H. C. MacNeill was authorized to sign these.

HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
While a.m. aspects will be on the mild side, those hours will, nevertheless, be good period in which to make plans for afternoon activities. More vigorous influences will prevail after noon, will encourage accomplishment in important interests.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your outlook for the next year is excellent, indeed. As of the first of this month, you entered a fine period where finances will last through the first three weeks of February. There's a good likelihood of increased earnings during the aforementioned weeks, but be careful not to speculate in mid-January and don't commit yourself to large expenditures. Next good cycles for monetary gain: The entire month of April (but only where long-range ventures are concerned. Don't expect immediate returns); again, during the first three weeks of September, and throughout October and next December.

Where job and/or business interests are concerned, best periods will almost parallel good fiscal cycles — especially between now and mid-February. Next: The first three weeks of March (through, here, you may be given more responsibilities), the last week in September, the first three weeks of October and throughout next November and December. Just one admonition: Do nothing to antagonize superiors or business partners in June, early July or the first three weeks of September or the star-promoted rewards will not be forthcoming.

Along personal lines, there will be great emphasis on romance during the latter part of this month, in February, June, late October and next December. Don't take the infatuation of May, September or November too seriously, however. Most stimulating periods for travel and social activities: The current month, the first three weeks of May, next November and December.

A child born on this day will be extremely ambitious, strong-willed and a perfectionist at heart.

Loss Of Ship On Lake Huron Sixth Worst Lakes' Case

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — The sinking of the freighter Daniel J. Morrell in Lake Huron Tuesday, with the possible loss of 32 lives, is the sixth worst ship disaster on the Great Lakes system since 1900.

The worst was the capsizing of the passenger ship Eastland in the Chicago River in 1915 when 812 were drowned.

On Nov. 11, 1913, 19 ships were lost in a hurricane, including two freighters in Lake Huron, and 254 were lost.

A total of 119 were killed when the passenger ship Noronic burned at a Toronto dock Sept. 17, 1949.

Disasters, starting from the most recent:

May 7, 1965—Freighter Cedarville collided with another ship in Straits of Mackinaw and sank, 10 killed.

Nov. 19, 1958—Freighter Carl D. Bradley sank in Lake Michigan, 33 killed.

May 11, 1953 — Ore carrier Henry Steinbrenner sank in Lake Superior, 17 killed.

Oct. 29, 1951—Freighter Penobscot and an oil barge collided in Buffalo harbor, 10 killed.

Sept. 24, 1947—Freighter Melvinton exploded and burned after collision with oil tanker Translake in St. Lawrence River, 12 killed.

June 4, 1947—Freighter Elmore in Lake Superior, 10 killed.

June 4, 1944—Pleasure craft Olga in Lake Erie, 17 killed.

A hand reported by M. Harrison-Gray in the British Bridge Magazine has unusual points of interest. The deal occurred in a national team of four championship in England many years ago.

South got to five spades doubled and West led the queen of hearts. Declarer won it with the ace and returned a trump.

Court Told Of Plot In Jakarta

JAKARTA (Reuters)—A special military court trying former air force commander Omar Dhani was told today Indonesian Communists planned to back him for the presidency if President Sukarno died.

Dhani, 42, looking gaunt and ill, went on trial for his life accused of complicity in the attempted Communist coup of October, 1965.

The prosecution claimed the Indonesian Communist party (PKI), now broken and disbanded, planned to throw its support behind Dhani if the coup succeeded.

The former jet pilot said he accepted only some of the charges against him.

He denied he provided the Communists with an opportunity to stage a coup and said he had no intention of overthrowing the government.

Dhani arrived at the court site in a special armored truck with a heavy army escort, machine-gun carriers patrolled surrounding streets, sealed off by barbed wire barricades from early morning.

As in the trial of former foreign minister Subandrio—now under sentence of death—the main issue was whether Dhani would incriminate President Sukarno.

Subandrio did not. Sukarno was expected to give written testimony and 44 witnesses, including several senior armed forces officers, will be called.

Slowdown In U.S. Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government predicts a slowdown in the rate of growth of U.S. business spending for new plants and equipment next year—a key economic factor certain to be weighed by President Johnson as he ponders the possibility of a tax increase.

Johnson received a report last week in addition to a glowing forecast for the country's economy in 1967. Gardner Ackley, chairman of the president's council of economic advisers, said prosperity will continue next year, no recession is in sight and prices should level off.

As Ackley was conferring with Johnson, the labor department reported unemployment in November dipped to 3.7 per cent for the third month this year—the lowest level since 1953—while total employment climbed to 75,000,000—higher than any November in history.

The commerce department and the securities and exchange commission predicted plant and equipment spending by business will increase at a rate of seven per cent in the first half of 1967, compared with the 16.5 per cent rate of growth projected for all of 1966.

Johnson has said he hopes to decide around the first of the year on whether to ask Congress for a tax increase to help finance the Viet Nam war and fight inflation.

Wilson, Smith Still Talking

GIBRALTAR (CP)—The seaborne talks between British Prime Minister Wilson and Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith stretched on for a second day today amid growing speculation here that they would return to Gibraltar by tonight.

Official details of the talks on the Rhodesian independence crisis, were limited to the fact that they were still going on and that the weather was cold.

As the talks proceeded aboard the Royal Navy cruiser Tiger in the Mediterranean Sea, five Rhodesian cabinet ministers were recalled to Salisbury for an expected emergency cabinet session to hear a report from Smith by radio.
